

About NORPROVIDER?

NORPROVIDER AS was established in 2005 as a sales and consulting agency. The team at NORPROVIDER has over 16 years experience of working within the software industry. The company was formed in response to a demand from the business community for clear information and impartial advice on licensing needs.

"In our experience it was obvious that many companies were encountering difficulties in purchasing the correct license at the right price. It was apparent that administering license estates in a cost effective way was a major challenge for many companies."
